Greatest Of All Sales

This will be the greatest of all our sales owing to the fact that our stock is larger and more complete than ever, and because most of the goods above mentioned are strictly this season's make. Some of the men's suits in particular have arrived within the last week. DON'T WAIT, BUT BE ON HAND EARLY AND GET FIRST CHOICE.

SIMON STERN, Inc.

The Central Avenue Clothier

It's a pleasure to look at a cake from our Bakery because, whatever its kind, it is certain to have an appetizing appearance. Then the taste of it is a revelation of purity, tenderness, and toothsome. And, besides, it makes the delectable of pound, plain, raisin and nut cakes, and they are enjoyed by ladies and guests alike. So, like home baking, too! Only our cakes would feel happy if they could make them like ours.

GAMING SPREADS AMONG PEOPLE OF BRITAIN
 Women Not Exempt from Fever Which Is Becoming National Menace and Cause for Gravest Concern.
 (Associated Press Correspondence.)
 London, July 8.—The spread of gambling among the English people, both men and women, is causing serious and growing concern. No measures yet have been devised to stop the habit, which rapidly is becoming more and more a menace. On all big races practically everybody, from the newsboy on the street to the peer in his motor, has something on his favorite horse, and even on the everyday race an immense amount in the aggregate is wagered. Lately it has been disclosed that women working in offices and restaurants in the city have become as inveterate gamblers as the men and boys. Nowadays both men and women, during the afternoon hours, are distracted from their work by their anxiety over the results of the races, and employers complain in vain.

 The House of Commons, with a view of curbing this increase in the betting habit, passed a law prohibiting commission agents from accepting money on a bet, but this was easily evaded by the agents carrying wagers on a credit system, settling once a week. As the system works today any boy with a shilling to bet on a horse can go to almost any newspaper seller and get his money down. Another measure to overcome this condition was met by opposition from the workmen, who claimed for himself the same privileges and opportunities accorded his wealthy neighbor, who can wager as freely as he likes by either going to the track or telephoning his commission agent.

 The complaint is made also that gambling is spoiling golf. At most of the big clubs today members will not play unless assured of a good side bet on the result. It started with half a dollar a round, but at some clubs a game is seldom played for less than $25, $50 or even $100 a round. The professional, too, who gets his fee for taking a novice around, now wants a wager on the result. Even if he gives the novice all he deserves, the professional generally can win.

Making Big Guns.
 London, July 8.—British naval gun factories are busy turning out a new lot of 4.7 inch guns with which to equip the mercantile marine. The Royal Mail ship Aragon, now en route from Southampton for South America, was the first thus to be armed under the new policy recently announced by First Lord of the Admiralty Winston Churchill. She carries two of these guns in her bows, and it is expected that within a few months practically all merchant ships sailing under the British flag will be similarly supplied.
 This step has been taken by the admiralty because certain of the powers have reserved the right of arming merchant vessels, and in time of war British ships carrying grain or other supplies would be at their mercy unless also armed. The cost of installation is to be met by the companies but the admiralty furnishes the guns and ammunition, and provides for the training of members of the crew to work the guns.

Playwright's Power Curtained.
 Paris, July 8.—Henry Bernstein, the playwright, who in May became director of his own theater, where his own plays are produced at prices rather higher than usual, even for Paris theaters, has had his power curtailed by the Society of Dramatic Authors, to which he belongs.

He will not be allowed to present more than one of his plays each year. After that he is bound to produce the plays of his brother dramatists.
Prosperity Tour Begins.
 Grand Rapids, Mich., July 8.—With the arousing of interest throughout the state in better highways as its purpose, the "good roads and prosperity tour" began today. A score of automobiles left today scheduled to stop at Holland, Grand Haven, Muskegon, Whitehall, Montague, Pontiac and Ludington. Governor Ferris had promised to be a guest on the trip.
